Dear Colleagues and Friends,

I am honored to welcome you in Rome, on behalf of the European Association for Urban History and of the Local Organizing Committee, in the fourteenth International Conference on Urban History.

It is the second time that our Association chooses Italy as a location for this event. Our first Italian conference was held in Venice 20 years ago (1998). We are glad to see return of the historians in the country of the cities.

The theme of this conference is of particular interest for the scientific communities studying the city and its people from the historical perspective, as witnessed by so many proposals presented both at the call for sessions and at the call for papers.

The city of Rome is a paramount example of a resilient city, able to prosper and reinvent itself through time.

Over the last ten years Rome has witnessed a period of crisis, which was not only related to global economic conjunctures, but also to issues of national policy. Nevertheless, Rome has proven capable of resisting and overcoming hard times and in looking forward to good times.

Global crisis or not, Rome still remains “la grande bellezza”, as we know it from Paolo Sorrentino’s movie.

We wish the Rome conference to be an occasion for addressing some issues that have characterized our meetings:
- the longue durée;
- the multidisciplinarity;
- the presence of not only European cities.

Europe has always been open, intercultural and international: we cannot study the history of European cities if we leave international dynamics aside. In conjunction to European cities, we will touch upon theme of the Mediterranean, which deserves more attention, considering that it represents a key political and cultural issue, requiring serious efforts and commitment in the scientific and cultural domain.

The Conference venue is the University of Roma Tre, which is the third state university in Rome. It was founded in 1992, and this academic year will celebrate its first 25 years.

For logistic reasons and in order to facilitate your access to the sessions, our main conference location will be the School of Economics and Business Studies, but we will have a plenary session at the Department of Architecture in Testaccio, an outstanding example of urban regeneration and re-use.

We choose to close our conference in the Capitol Hill, not only because it is the City Hall, but also because here, in 1957, the Roman Treaties were signed, paving the way to a stronger cooperation amongst European countries.

We wish to all of you a fruitful dialogue, inspiring new ideas, and hopefully new projects and enhanced personal networks. And of course we wish to you a pleasant stay in Rome.

Carlo M. Travaglini, President of EAUH
and the Local Organizing Committee
BIENVENUE AU 14ÈME COLLOQUE INTERNATIONALE D’HISTOIRE URBANE

Chères et chers collègues et amis, j’ai le plaisir et l’honneur de vous accueillir, au nom de l’Association européenne d’histoire urbaine (AEHU) et du Comité local d’organisation, à l’occasion de la XIVe Conférence internationale d’histoire urbaine.

C’est la deuxième fois que notre association choisit une ville italienne, la première était Venise, il y a 20 ans (1998). Nous sommes heureux de ce retour des historiens dans le pays des villes.

Le thème général de référence de notre conférence a suscité un très grand intérêt dans la communauté scientifique qui étudie la ville et ses habitants dans une perspective historique, comme en témoigne le très grand nombre de propositions présentées à la fois pour convoquer des sessions et pour appeler des communications.

Rome est un exemple de ville résiliente à travers le temps. Au cours des dix dernières années, Rome a connu une période de crise qui n’est pas seulement liée à la situation économique mondiale, mais également aux politiques nationales.

Néanmoins, Rome a démontré sa capacité de résister et de surmonter la crise et elle reste « La grande bellezza », cité par le titre du film de Paolo Sorrentino.

Nous souhaitons que la conférence de Rome soit une occasion de consolider certaines questions qui ont caractérisé nos réunions: la longue durée; la pluridisciplinarité; la présence de villes non seulement européennes. L’Europe a toujours été ouverte, interculturelle et internationale: on ne peut pas étudier l’histoire des villes européennes en laissant de côté les dynamiques internationales. Et ici émerge le thème de la Méditerranée, qui mérite plus d’attention, étant donné qu’elle représente une question politique et culturelle cruciale, et qu’elle requiert également des efforts et un engagement sérieux dans les domaines scientifiques et culturels.

Le lieu de la conférence se trouve à l’Université de Roma Tre, troisième université d’État instituée à Rome. Elle a été fondée en 1992 et cette année académique vient de célébrer ses premières 25 années.

Pour des raisons logistiques et afin de faciliter la mobilité interne, le lieu principal de la conférence sera l’École des sciences économiques, mais nous aurons une session plénière au Département d’Architecture à Testaccio, un exemple très intéressant de régénération urbaine et de réutilisation.

Enfin, nous avons décidé de clore notre conférence sur la colline du Capitole, non seulement parce qu’il s’agit de la siège de l’hôtel de ville, mais surtout parce que c’est là que, en 1957, les traités fondateurs de l’Europe ont été signés dans un contexte de grande espoirs pour la paix et la coopération en Europe.

Nous vous souhaitons une occasion fructueuse de dialogue, de réflexion, de discussion, d’inspiration de nouvelles idées, de projets et de réseaux et un séjour agréable à Rome.

Carlo M. Travaglini, Présidente de l’AEHU
et le Comité local d’organisation
The European Association for Urban History (EAUH) was established in 1989 with support from the European Union. Its goal is to provide a multidisciplinary forum for historians, geographers, sociologists, anthropologists, art and architectural historians, planners and other scholars working on various aspects of urban history from the middle ages until the present. The Association was officially established in August 2014. Its domicile is Helsinki, Finland.

Every two years, the EAUH organises a large-scale international conference, at which European and non-European scholars discuss new directions in the field, conduct and stimulate comparative research, and initiate future collaborative projects and publications.

Membership of the EAUH is free of charge and is confirmed by repeated active participation during the conferences.

Since 1992 the EAUH has organised fourteen international conferences.

The European Association for Urban History has a general website www.eauh.eu, which offers various entries that might be helpful for your research and for the work of your students:

- Conference directory
  The directory enables you to search all past conferences for specific papers, sessions, authors, organisers etc. This can be especially useful if you organise an international workshop or research application and try to expand the geographic focus of your scientific network. Searching via keywords is possible by using the search form. You can also directly browse through the raw data.

- Bibliography
  This list offers a preliminary overview of collected volumes and the special issues of journals that have resulted from sessions of EAUH conferences. We are looking forward to your additions!

- Journals
  An overview of recommended journals specialised in urban history, offered in seven languages and from nine countries.

- Organisations
  A list of recommended institutions and organisations devoted to urban history, including centres for research and teaching, national urban history societies, and virtual communities.

L’Association Européenne d’Histoire Urbaine

Tous les deux ans, l’EAUH organise une conférence internationale de grande envergure au cours de laquelle des universitaires européens et non européens discutent de nouvelles orientations dans ce domaine, mènent et stimulent des recherches comparatives et lancent de futurs projets et publications collaboratifs.

L’adhésion à l’EAUH est gratuite et est confirmée par une participation active répétée lors des conférences.

Jusqu’à présent, quatorze colloques ont été organisées.

L’Association Européenne d’Histoire Urbaine a un site Internet www.eauh.eu qui propose plusieurs entrées pouvant être utiles à votre travail de recherche et au travail de vos étudiants :

- Conférences
  Le répertoire permet de rechercher dans l’ensemble des colloques et conférences réalisés des communications précises, des sessions, auteurs, organisateurs, etc. Particulièrement utile si vous organisez un workshop international ou une demande de bourse de recherche et vous essayez d’étendre le rayon géographique de votre réseau scientifique. Le volet de recherche permet de lancer la recherche par mots clés. Vous pouvez également accéder directement aux données brutes.

- Bibliographie
  La liste donne un aperçu préliminaire des volumes d’articles recueillis et des numéros spéciaux de revues académiques ayant résulté de sessions des conférences précédentes de l’AEHU. Nous attendons avec impatience vos contributions !

- Revues
  Cette rubrique propose une vue d’ensemble des revues spécialisées en histoire urbaine, en sept langues et provenant de neuf pays différents.

- Organisations
  La rubrique propose la liste des institutions et établissements reconnus qui se consacrent à l’histoire urbaine : aussi bien les centres de recherche et d’enseignement que les sociétés nationales d’histoire urbaine et les communautés virtuelles.

Biography
Richard Rodger obtained his MA and PhD from Edinburgh, and has held academic posts at Liverpool, Leicester, and Kansas, returning to Edinburgh University as professor of Economic and Social History in 2007. Rodger was Editor of Urban History for 21 years, co-organiser of the Urban History Group annual conference also for many years, and General Editor of more than 35 books in the series “Historical Urban Studies” (published by Ashgate 1996-2011), many of which have thematic and European perspectives. While at Leicester as Director of the Centre for Urban History and Director of the East Midlands Oral History Archive, Rodger built research capacity by bringing Audio and Visual resources together to strengthen urban historical research in Central England. He continues this thread of innovative urban historical research through his current project “Mapping Edinburgh’s Social History” [MESH] which enables urban historians and the general public to develop historical and contemporary maps of the city in a one-stop process from a simple spreadsheet of data. His prize-winning monograph The Transformation of Edinburgh: Land, Property and Trust in the Nineteenth Century (Cambridge University Press 2001) (awarded Frank Watson Prize in Scottish History) Housing in Urban Britain 1780-1914 (Cambridge University Press 1995) Environmental and Social Justice in the City: Historical Perspectives (White Horse Press, Cambridge 2011), (ed. with G. Massard-Guilbaud) – contributions to the EAUH conference Lyon (2008) Insanitary City: Henry Littlejohn and the Condition of Edinburgh (Carnegie Publishing, Lancaster 2013), (with P. Biography
Paolo Desideri (Rome 1953) graduated in architecture in Rome in 1980. He is Full Professor since 1985 and since 2000 he is Professor of Architectural Design at the School of Architecture of the University of Rome “Roma Tre”. He has been Visiting Professor in many Schools of Architecture. He is chief architect and founding partner of ABDR Architetti Associati, along with Maria Laura Arlotti, Michele Beccu and Filippo Raimondo. His firm has been in practice since 1982. The work of his architectural practice primarily focuses on large-scale infrastructural and cultural projects both in the public and private sector as well as on high-density housing complexes. Some of the ABDR projects have to be mentioned: Italian Pavilion at Expo Astana 2017, the New High Speed Train Station in Casablanca, the New High Speed Train Station “Roma Tiburtina”, the New Opera House in Florence, the Refurbishment of the National Archaeological Museum in Reggio Calabria, the New Subway Stations of the B1 Line in Rome, the “Palazzo delle Esposizioni” Refurbishment and the Renovation of the “ex-serra Piacentini” in Rome. He has a vast editorial activity and his articles regularly appear on major architecture magazines. He is author of numerous critical and theoretical texts of architectural and urban design.

Stranger in Rome or how to write (urban) history in an eternal city

Saturday, 1 September 2018
Closing Ceremony 15:30 – 18:30
City Hall, Campidoglio, Sala della Protomoteca

Biography
Martin Baumeister since 2012 is director of the German Historical of Rome. After his PhD on contemporary Spanish history at Ludwig-Maximilians-Universitaet Munich and his Habilitation on the cultural history of World War I at Humboldt Universitaet Berlin, he hold a chair of contemporary European history at LMU Munich from 2003 to 2017. Among his current fields of research are urban history, particularly of the Euro Mediterranean region, and the analysis of Southern Europe and the Mediterranean as historical regions in the 20th century.

Martin Baumeister’s publications include:
Roma Tre University was founded in 1992, it has rapidly grown in terms of enrolments as well as in the number of academic courses offered. It has gained a very good reputation in the most prominent academic rankings, especially among the most recently founded institutions.

Roma Tre University is organized in 12 departments offering bachelor’s and master’s degrees, Postgraduate and Advanced courses, PhDs and Specialisation Schools.

A dynamic, modern and international university that has immediately characterised as the vital lever of the capital’s urban development, within which it is now deeply rooted, contributing in changing the city’s identity with a persevering process of restructuring and re-using abandoned industrial buildings, converting them into factories of knowledge and research.

Among its founding values, Roma Tre assumes the promotion and organization of high-quality international research, the excellence in higher education as well as in the development and dissemination of knowledge, the environmental protection, the international solidarity, the principles of gender equity and the evaluation and recognition of merit.

Teaching and research, in all disciplinary areas, constantly interact and target a global world, thus promoting the upgrading and enrichment of knowledge; they combine their action with the third mission, considered both as technology transfer and as a projection of higher education activities on the territory.

The international dimension is considered a strategic aspect for the University, which adheres, among others, to the inspirational principles of the Magna Charta Universitatum and identifies itself in the principles and tools of the European Research and Higher education Area.

Roma Tre University considers sustainability one of its fundamental values. According to the GreenMetric World Universities Ranking 2016, Roma Tre University currently represents the only “green” University in Rome and Lazio.

INSTRUCTION FOR SPEAKERS

All speakers are requested to keep within the time limits of their presentation. The time slot for each presentation is 10 minutes, followed by time for discussion, unless you have different instructions from the session organisers. Please, be in the room of your session at least 15 minutes before the session starts, so that you can submit your presentation to be uploaded onto the computer provided for presentation and meet your session chairpersons and the other speakers in advance.

Conference official languages
The official languages are French and English. Speakers can choose either of them to present their work. However, the language generally used is English. If necessary and according to the composition of the panel, we suggest presenters who choose French to distribute a summary in English and prepare the eventual slides in English in order to facilitate the discussion. No translation will be provided during the sessions.

Table Tent card
Personal table tend card will be supplied at the time of registration. Speakers are requested to carry it with them and set it up on the table during their presentation.

Standard equipment in the room
Rooms are equipped with a PC with internet access and a projector. It is not possible to run any presentations from your own laptop.

Powerpoint instructions
Bring your presentation on a flash drive in Microsoft Power point or Adobe PDF format. We recommend that you save your Power Point presentation using the PPT format instead of in PPS.
INSTRUCTION POUR LES CONFÉRENCIERS

Tous les conférenciers sont priés de respecter la durée de leur présentation. Le temps de parole pour chaque présentation est de 10 minutes, suivies d’une période de discussion, sauf instructions contraires émanant de l’organisateur de la session. Veuillez-vous présenter dans la salle de la session au moins 15 minutes avant le début, afin de pouvoir soumettre votre présentation et rencontrer à l’avance les présidents de session ainsi que les autres orateurs.

Les langues officielles de la conférence

Le tente de table
La Tente de table personnelle sera fournie au moment de l’enregistrement. Les orateurs sont priés de le porter avec eux et de le mettre sur la table lors de leur présentation.

L’équipement standard dans la salle
L’équipement standard disponible dans chaque salle est composé d’un ordinateur avec accès internet et d’un projecteur. L’utilisation des ordinateurs portables personnels n’est prévue.

Instructions pour les Powerpoint
Apportez votre présentation sur un clé USB au format Microsoft Power Point ou Adobe PDF. Nous vous recommandons de sauvegarder votre présentation PowerPoint en utilisant le format PPT au lieu de PPS.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Connections with Fiumicino Airport
Fiumicino Airport (FCO) is the main airport hub of Rome, situated about 30 km (19 miles) southwest. The fastest way to reach the city centre is by Leonardo Express train, which takes 32 minutes non-stop to Termini Station. There is also a slower train to Tiburtina Station (48 minutes), which stops at Trastevere and Ostiense stations, the closest to the Conference venue. Train tickets can be bought at the train station or online. Several bus companies, including Terravision, Sit Bus Shuttle, and TAM run services to Termini station in about one hour. Taxis charge flat fares: €48 from Fiumicino Airport to the city centre (centro storico); €45 from Fiumicino Airport to Ostiense Railway Station; €55 from Fiumicino Airport to Tiburtina Railway Station. Tickets can be booked online for no extra cost. Minibus taxis, such as Airport Shuttle, charge per person.

Connections with Ciampino Airport
Ciampino Airport (CIA) is about 15 km (9 miles) southeast of Rome. The fastest way to the city centre is by bus to Termini (40 minutes). There are several bus companies available, including Terravision, Sit Bus shuttle, Rome Airport Bus (Schiaffini). The tickets can be bought at the train station or online.

Public transportation inside Rome: bus, tram and metro
Rome’s transportation system is co-ordinated by ATAC. Tickets are valid for all city buses, tram and metro lines. Tickets must be bought before boarding at the ATAC automatic ticket machines and info desks inside the metro stations, in some bars and newsstands, and in all tabacchi stores.
One-trip tickets (BIT) are valid for 100 minutes and cost €1.50. There are also daily tickets (BIG) €7.00, 3-day tickets (BTI) €18.00, and weekly Passes (CIS) €24.00. Tickets need to be validated on board the first time they are used.
Rome Metro has 3 lines: A, B and C. Trains run every 4 to 10 minutes from 5:30am to 11:30pm daily, until 1:30am on Friday and Saturday. Bus routes and arrival times are listed on the bus stops. Moovit app works fairly well in Rome. A good night bus service is available after 11.30 pm.

Taxi services
Taxi ranks are numerous throughout the city center. The biggest are at Termini Station, Piazza Venezia, Piazza di Spagna, Piazza del Popolo, Piazza Barberini and Piazzale Ostiense. You can also order a taxi online or by phone, dialing the taxi numbers 065551; 063570; 066645; 060609. Official taxi are white and display inside the trip fares, according to the Municipal regulation. An additional charge is applied for each piece of luggage over the specified size. There is a night surcharge but, when booking through 3570, there is a special night fare for women (-10%).

Passport, ID- card, visa
Visitors from countries other than the European Economic Area, (EEA), European Union (EU), and Switzerland need a valid passport to enter in Italy. EEA, EU and Swiss nationals can use identity cards.

Insurance
EU citizens are entitled to free emergency treatment under Italy’s public healthcare system if they have a valid European Health Insurance Card (EHIC). Participants from other countries should inform themselves about specific health agreements with Italy.

Opening hours for services
Major museums and sights as well as most of the supermarkets and international chain stores remain open the whole day. Opening hours for shops, churches and other businesses are 8.00/9.00 am - 12:30/1.00 pm, and 3.00/4.00 pm – 6.00/8.00 pm.
Banks and currency
Italy’s currency is the euro (€). The easiest way of getting cash is with debit cards from ATM machines, known in Italy as Bancomat. Banks opening hours are 8.30 am – 1.30 pm and 2.30 - 4.00 pm, Monday to Friday.

Tipping
Tipping in Italy is voluntary.

Touristic information points
There are different Touristic information points throughout the city centre, as well as a telephonic information service available in English by dialling 060608.
